

IEP 2014 Annual Workshop Student and Early-Career Professional Luncheon February 27, 2014

Do you need career advice? Looking for a job? Interested in a graduate school program? We are again sponsoring a student and early-career professional luncheon at the IEP's Annual Workshop on Thursday, February 27, 2014. The purpose of the luncheon is to facilitate conversation between those in the early phases of their careers and senior members of the IEP agencies and academic community regarding research interests and career building. Ultimately, we want to create a casual and stress-free atmosphere for early-career professionals to get feedback from mentors on a wide array of topics, including how to land a government job, creating research opportunities, getting published, or finding a graduate school program.

If you are interested in attending, please contact Kathy Hieb at Kathy.Hieb@wildlife.ca.gov or 209-234-3484 by February 7, 2014. Workshop registration is required, but there is no additional cost for participating in this luncheon. However, luncheon space is limited and preregistration for the luncheon is required.
